WARNING: INSURERS CAN SERIOUSLY DAMAGE YOUR WEALTH

If you have been involved in an accident that wasn't your fault you may be contacted by insurers inviting you to settle your claim without getting legal advice.

If this happens it is vital you contact us immediately.

An offer from an insurer will be an attempt to settle with you as cheaply as possible for them. They know this is professional misconduct and they know it breaks court rules - but they keep on doing it anyway!

Independent research shows that Solicitors obtain almost three times more on average than insurers offer directly.

At O'Neill Injury Solicitors we have more than 20 years experience in dealing with personal injury claims and we want you to get the amount you are entitled to - not what the insurers think they can get away with.

We cover Keighley and Sipton and surrounding areas. We would be delighted to see you at home, for free, to advise you on any aspect of bringing a personal injury claim to make sure you are properly compensated.

Help us to help you to get your rightful compensation.

Thrills and spills for Summer Jam

A real buzz is building up around Summer Jam - Silsden's biggest ever musical extravaganza with a packed programme of bands and entertainment lined up to suit all tastes.

Saturday's headliners for Summer Jam music festival have been announced as Sheffield-based Indie pop band Reverend and The Makers This completes the big name billings at Riverside Fields, Silsden, over the August Bank Holiday weekend. Reverend and the Makers are fronted by Jon McClure - nicknamed The Reverend. They grew out of the indie rock renaissance of 2005 and were at the forefront of the Sheffield scene, along with friends the Arctic Monkeys. The Rev prides himself on staying close to his roots and recently travelled the country in a camper van playing acoustic gigs in fans' living rooms - arranged on Twitter - to promote the 'Thirty Two' album.

He said: "I'm really into the idea of playing in places that don't usually get a look-in" and Summer Jam organiser John Beaumont added: "Our festival certainly fits the bill, as this will be the first time Silsden has seen a musical event on this scale."

John added: "A word of warning - the northern dates of the Reverends' tour have sold out months in advance, so if you want to see them in Silsden, do please get your tickets now - especially if you intend to camp as pitches are limited."

Reverend and the Makers join Sunday headliner Bruce Foxtan, former bassist with mod icons The Jam and his aptly-named band From the Jam. Tom Hingley, former vocalist with Manchester indie band Inspiral Carpets tops the bill on Friday and Sunday will also welcome Nick Harper, son of rock legend Roy. Alongside the big name acts, Summer Jam festival will be showcasing a wealth of local talent and up-and-coming unsigned bands.

A popular attraction among local people is proving to be the dance marquee starring top house, funk, soul and northern soul DJs like Mick Tole, Mark Wilkie, Danny Bond, Rob Tissera, Dave Longy, Tim Charlton and Sean Coy.

Family fun

Summer Jam, from Friday August 22 to Sunday August 24, is a family friendly event, raising funds for Teenage Cancer Trust - and a fun programme of daytime activities has also been confirmed.

Festival-goers (kids and big kids of all ages) can have a go on the largest inflatable slide in Europe - courtesy of Steeton-based Royal Inflatables. At 55ft high this monster is not for the faint hearted!

The more daring in the crowd will also relish the chance to brave the Quasar

Arena - an inflatable tent where players battle it out with laser guns, in the dark, to the beat of heart-pumping spooky soundtracks.

And in keeping with the sci-fi theme, keep an eye out for some mysterious Star Wars characters who will be beaming in to mingle with the festival crowd and support the charity effort.

There will also be fairground rides for all the family and a range of stalls and refreshments.

As a big thank-you to last year's Silsdenbury audience and all the local people who are supporting this year's festival, a concessionary weekend ticket has been introduced for Silsden residents. These tickets will only be sent out by post to a Silsden postcode.

COUNTRY COOKING & FORAGING FOR FOOD

For the promotion of Health & Wellbeing by Cath Bromwich

MAKING MORE OUT OF LESS?

With this year being the centenary anniversary of the beginning of World War I, and having recently written an article about food in World War II, thriftiness is much on my mind.

The lengths people had to go to in both wars to keep tasty, nutritious food on the table are amazing. Did you know that people were encouraged to substitute grated potato for suet fat in some recipes? Without enough fat food becomes pretty unpalatable.

So the challenges of war time restrictions have yet again spired me on to use what I am so fortunate to have to its maximum. And one thing I do have is an allotment. I once visited a farm developed around the permaculture system of growing plants and basically that means that they are very careful about where they place a plant so that it is in the absolute best spot for it to thrive (soil condition, shade, moisture, direct sunlight). So remembering that visit one of the things I am trying to do is to get my humble plants to grow well. But I do have a bit of a challenge with a pretty but rather boggy, wind and rain-swept 'piece of my own countryside'!

Maximising my yield overall has led me to consider being a bit broader in the mind when considering what to allow to grow. Some of the things that grow very well are the things that I don't want to grow, and can forage elsewhere... nettles being a good example... However some old fashioned herbs that now are known more as wild plants also do well in my soil, so tansy has also found a happy home with me.

This is all in aid of growing things that really want to grow where I am, making the best of what I have. I think this is one fitting way to acknowledge people who sacrificed in so many ways so that we can enjoy the peace and freedoms we do. I have included a rather nice Nettle and Herb risotto recipe for those of you who also have plenty of plants that grow very well!!

Top tip: Slightly old bread makes great breadcrumbs for long forgotten puddings. When was the last time you had treacle tart?

Cath Bromwich, a Silsden resident, is a cookery teacher and forager with a background in health promotion. Her livelihood includes foraging, general and health-related cookery for different conditions such as diabetes and coeliac disease. For more information, or to pass on your stories and recipes, contact Cath at www.facebook.com/ourchoicefoodsforaging

Nettle and Herb risotto

Serves 1-2 people

Gently fry a chopped onion with a tablespoon of olive oil, add a chopped garlic clove or some wild garlicky flavour later with the nettles (wild garlic or garlic mustard), season with salt and pepper, add a cup of washed rice turning up the heat a bit, slowly add about 2 cups of hot stock (veg or for best results fresh chicken), put the lid on and simmer until nearly cooked.

In the meantime wash young nettle leaves you have picked then either cook them in salted boiling water for a few minutes (long enough for them to lose their sting but keep their bright colour), alternatively steam them on top of the rice for a few minutes. Also add wild garlicky flavoured leaves if you are using them. Add any other seasoning you would like. I add a variety of fresh herbs. When the rice is cooked, stir nettles through rice and eat. Add parmesan. You can also add a little dry white wine to the cooking process with the stock.

CHANGES TO FAMILY LAW

You may have heard recently in the press about the significant reforms of the Family Justice System.

The headline changes which took place in April are:

- To introduce a single specialist family court replacing the current three tiers of family court;
- Creating "Child Arrangement Orders" to replace "contact" and "residence" orders (previously access and custody) and
- Effecting new processes to improve timescales in children proceedings
- Requirement to attend a compulsory mediation awareness session if you have a dispute relating to children or finances
- Improving transparency whilst protecting children's identities still.

They also follow the introduction of same sex marriage which took effect on 29 March 2014.

Here at Walker Foster Solicitors we recognise that this is one of the most complex and emotive of all legal subjects. Issues relating to the family need specialist input from experts with the sensitivity and understanding to handle your case with the care and attention it deserves.

Our team is highly experienced and has been supporting families in North Yorkshire for many years. With offices in Skipton, Ilkley, Silsden and Barnoldswick our team, now headed up by Liz Hebden and supported by Geraldine Farry and Suzanne Preston put great importance on excellent client service and are dedicated to help families through this difficult time.

Please call our Silsden office on 01535 656000 or pop in to arrange an appointment 63 Kirkgate, Silsden.

Cancer Support branches out to Skipton

However, we have always been keen to build on our successes and this has resulted in us being able to support more people across the area.

"We spoke to our clients to hear how they thought the charity could develop further. There's no denying that demand for our services continues to grow, and it soon became clear that a second base, easier to reach for people in Skipton and the surrounding area, was much needed. "So we've taken the leap and branched out! To get the keys for this new satellite office is incredibly exciting for the whole team, and the Skipton community. We look forward to providing face to face practical and emotional support in this area, and hope volunteers will come forward to enable us to do this."

Volunteer drivers and experienced therapists and counsellors who would like to donate some time to help develop Cancer Support's Skipton-based services, are encouraged to contact the charity. Businesses located in Skipton can also help support those affected by a cancer diagnosis.

To get involved please call 01274 776688, email support@bradfordcancersupport.org.uk or visit the website for further details.

If you require any further information please don't hesitate to get in touch.

After twenty five years based in the heart of Bradford, popular local charity Cancer Support Bradford & Airedale is expanding to help more people throughout the region.

The hard-working team has just taken delivery of keys to its new satellite office in Skipton. This new centre on Otley Street, will provide face to face support to people affected by cancer. It will initially be open one day a week, but the team plans to develop the level of services offered in Skipton, over time.

Speaking about the exciting expansion news, Linda Howard, Cancer Support's Director, said: "In 2013 we celebrated our silver jubilee year – a fantastic achievement for everyone involved in our 25 year journey to date.

Worth the Tour magazine

Worth the Tour is publishing a full-colour glossy magazine to inform residents & visitors of all the great things going on in our local area – and also to provide them with a souvenir of this event-of-a-lifetime. The magazine will be on sale at Keighley & Haworth hubs, Victoria Hall, the Manorlands Campsites, Riverside Le Tour Campsite in Silsden and Oxenhope Straw Race, with a proportion of the proceeds going to Manorlands, Teenage Cancer Trust and other good causes. For more details 01535 642227 videography, photography, guide maps and interpretation boards.

The Halifax Rd. site (best viewed from The Three Acres Inn) with Razwan Ul-Haq's Finite Cycle of Time looks stunning, 9-year-old Poppy Batch's Big Bad Wolf in Haworth is already blowing people away and Simon Manfield's One Man and His Dog is getting spruced up with new a paint job at fortnightly intervals. When we went to press, Steve Messam's Ravens were nesting in nicely at Stanbury while Louise Lockhart's Leaping Lady at Oxenhope and 9-year-old James Ingham's Farm Friends at Hainworth were nearing completion.

Hub happenings

Arrangements are in place for Haworth's Grand Départ Spectator Hub in Central Park. Facilities and entertainment, running over Saturday and Sunday are looking like this:

- Big screen viewing of the Grand Départ
- Children's activities and workshops
- Children's rides
- Refreshments, catering and event bar
- Music performances from local artists during Saturday and Sunday afternoons
- Live music on Saturday night (to 23:00)
- Market stalls to support local traders and others
- Secure cycle storage

There are still some stalls available on the produce market

fields of vision

It's almost upon us! We are now into the last leg of the run-up to the Grand Depart and the excitement is really building.

Our district has been a media hot spot in recent weeks with visits from Look North, ITV news, BBC Countryfile and The Times to name but a few. And Team Worth the Tour hooked up with Keighley's Tour de France Frank (Frank O'Dwyer) for Radio Leeds' Keighley Library broadcast around the preparations.

The spotlight has fallen on our own

Hollywood project – the iconic sign on the hillside above Shaw Lane in Oxenhope. The salutation has taken on a few more incarnations, including READ THE BOOK, LOVE LIFE, DRINK MILK, and now LOVE YORKSHIRE.... then it's nearly time for the final message we've all been waiting for.

The Countryfile crew were keen on the Fields of Vision land art project – so how appropriate that a sheepdog trial on Simon Manfield's 'One Man and His Dog' artwork in Stanbury was one of the star attractions for the project's official launch on Saturday, June 7. [Countryfile feature will air June 22] Despite driving rain, a brave crowd turned out to the viewpoint on Cemetery Road, representing the Fields of Vision team, Worth Valley Young Farmers, Worth the Tour and the local community. Keelham Farm Shop owner Victoria Robertshaw presented competition winners James Ingham and Poppy Batch with their prize hampers. Of course the bad weather was no barrier for hardy farmer Ian Ibbotson and his sheep dog, who were able to bring Simon's artistic vision to life and successfully drive their sheep into the outstretched hand of the shepherd figure in the field.

Woody (Andrew Wood) and the Young Farmers have been hard at work preparing the Fields for the artists working on this high-profile land art which will animate the route as part of Yorkshire Festival 2014. Meanwhile, the Worth the Tour team have been beavering away behind the scenes on
