WANTED: COMMUNITY MAGAZINE DELIVERERS

- ✓ Earn extra money
- ✓ Get fit ✓ Help the community
- ✓ From age 14+

We are looking for committed hardy individuals (no matter the weather!) willing to make monthly deliveries in the Worth & Aire valleys. We do our best to find a round close to your home. To apply contact Kay: kaybinns2014@gmail.com include your name, address, & contact details.

December is a month to both celebrate and take stock; we look backward and forward. Following a recent week away in the USA to take part in the American celebration of Thanksgiving, I am still counting my blessings. What a privilege to be able to freely move between countries and visit friends and family. I must admit, while being a resident of the UK for the past 28 years, it remains an absolute pleasure to return 'home' to Yorkshire.

As we head in to full-on December celebration mode, you will find Amy Firth's show stopper of a cake recipe on page 14; it's worthy of the holiday table. Enjoy it. And then when January rolls around, you can find a Slimming World class to get your waistline where you want it to be. It's all good. Have a lovely festive season.

WORTH VALLEY

As we approach the end of 2018, we draw to a close a year of celebrating fifty years of operation of the Railway. We've welcomed Royalty, in both the guise of HRH the Duchess of Cornwall and the 'Royal Scot' locomotive, and recognised volunteers who have given decades of service to the Railway. Reflecting on what we have achieved is very humbling, and makes all of us involved in the Railway very proud.

The Railway has changed a great deal in that 50 years, but some things remain popular. Santa first arrived on the Railway in the earliest days of operation at Haworth and even before the line was fully reopened in 1968. The Santa Specials may have changed in form over the decades, but their charm and popularity hasn't and we are yet again running a sell-out service throughout December for Santa and his Pixies. We will also be running our Mince Pie Specials from Boxing Day to New Year's Day so you can continue to enjoy the festivities with us until January 1st.

The Railway's catering offering has also developed over the decades and in response to demand we now open the buffet carriage at Oxenhope every Wednesday to Friday even when trains are not operating. We offering a discount during December, and you can enjoy a 20% discount at Oxenhope Buffet when the trains are not running. Simply ask for the Winter Discount at the till .

As well as the buffet, the gift shop at Haworth is also open during the week, so if you're looking for some railway-themed festive gifts you can avoid the weekend crowds by visiting Monday to Friday instead.

Looking forward to 2019, we have great plans including the reintroduction of the popular Diesel Gala event, a weekend that appeals to the generations of passengers who remember widespread diesel rather than steam traction from their younger days. Building on the success of the 50th Anniversary event back in June, we will be running the event as a 'Mixed traffic' Gala, allowing us to run a prototypical blend of steam and diesel services. We will have a wide range of special events, including Prosecco and Whisky tasting trains; the 'Haworth Haddock' fish and chip supper services; and plenty more for you to enjoy. Finally, I would like to thank you all for continued support during our 50th anniversary year, and we look forward to welcoming you board as we embark on our second half-century of operation.

Brontë Parsonage Museum at 90

A History of the Museum in 10 Objects

Much of the good Patrick Brontë achieved during his long ministry at Haworth has been overshadowed by the fame of his daughters. Throughout Mr. Brontë's forty-one years in Haworth, his duties as a clergyman were wide-ranging, encompassing aspects of social welfare and matters relating to public health. He was especially interested in developments in medical knowledge and had an understanding of the manner in which disease was spread. Amongst the many interesting items in the collection at the Brontë Parsonage Museum is Mr Brontë's copy of Graham's Modern Domestic Medicine, published in 1826. This was one of many medical texts which he had read, and his notes, written in the margins of the book, show just how seriously he took his interest in medical matters. The notes also shed light on the illnesses suffered by his own family circle, and the remedies which were tried.

In 1846, at the age of sixty-nine, Mr Brontë travelled to Manchester where he underwent an operation for cataract removal. He took a keen interest in the procedure (which was performed without anaesthetic), and later added an account of the experience in his copy of Graham:

Belladonna a virulent poison – was first applied, twice, in order to expand the pupil – this occasioned very acute pain for only about five seconds - The feeling, under the operation – which lasted fifteen minutes, was of a burning nature - but not intolerable – as I have read is generally the case, in surgical operations. My lens was extracted so that cataract can never return in that eye...

The disease usually associated with the Brontës is consumption. In an attempt to restore her health, Anne Brontë travelled to Scarborough in 1849, dying in the town just four days later. In the section on 'Pulmonary Consumption', Mr Brontë added a poignant footnote:

Mr Teale, Surgeon, Leeds, said that change of place & climate, could prove beneficial, only in the early stage of consumption – that afterwards, the excitement caused by change of scenes, and beds, and strange company, did harm.

It was his interest in matters relating to public health which led to Patrick Brontë petitioning the government to send a health inspector to Haworth. As a result, threats to public health were identified and improvements gradually introduced, although these came too late to benefit his own family. Ann Dinsdale, Principal Curator

In 2019, the Museum will be celebrating the life and work of the Rev Patrick Brontë with a new exhibition and visitors will have the chance to see this important item on display.

Ceri's Success Story

2019 celebrates Slimming World's 50th year of helping individuals lose weight without hunger, improve health and gain confidence.

Ceri Galluci joined Riddlesden Slimming World in 2016 and achieved her target weight with a loss of 3 stone that same year. Ceri says "I remember feeling really uncomfortable; bursting out of a generous size 16 jeans and as my youngest child turned 1, I didn't have the excuse of having a "baby" any more.

I love the fact I've been able to incorporate food optimising as a lifestyle change rather than just a fad diet. Realising there was so much I could eat and that I didn't have to feel deprived; looking for recipes and planning meals became like a hobby itself! I plan meals we can all eat as a family and we have firm favourites - Campfire stew, Beef hotpot, Carbonara, Fish and chips and Cottage Pie to name but a few! My sweet tooth has been my biggest challenge- and learning to tap into eating when you're hungry rather than just eating for eating's sake! I still have a sweet tooth but I can still indulge in my chocolate bar!"

"I have so much more energy and my fitness levels have improved dramatically. I can keep up with my 6 and 3 year old and take part in their activities, without feeling self-conscious and embarrassed. Without Slimming World I'd have never considered exercising and it was their concept of 'Body magic' which got me going. I started walking in an evening, completed a 'Couch to 5k', progressed to weekly Saturday Park runs and now do lots of 10k events. This September I took on my biggest challenge to date- running my first half Marathon- the Great North Run. The sense of achievement, well-being and sanity (peace and quiet from the kids!) which I get from running is really important to me".

"Being overweight affected my self-esteem, confidence and self-worth so much and as a result this had a huge impact on my mood and mental well-being. That has been the biggest change and although I still have my fair share of up's and downs, I can't imagine Slimming World and my group not being part of my life now."

SMITHY'S TECH TIPS

By Liam Smith

It's fast approaching that time of the year we've all been waiting for, from gift giving to family festive traditions, and surrounding yourself with friends and family you cherish and love. But no matter how well we plan for this joyous occasion, there's always going to be something that doesn't go according to plan. Whether that's the Christmas Turkey, the dog destroying the presents, or perhaps something that isn't considered as often, not being able to view your favourite movies or TV shows around your busy schedule.

Gone are the days of setting the timer of the VCR recorder to record live TV which undoubtedly aired too early or too late to enjoy the full content. Nowadays, there are no tapes, no discs, and no USB sticks to export to, it's all done internally! What does this mean exactly? Well, Freeview (aerial) and Freesat (satellite) recorders have an HDD – Hard Disk Drive built-in, meaning that you no longer have to frantically scour the cupboards or TV stand for DVD's or VHS tapes to record to before the content starts, it's all stored on this one device.

If you've ever had Sky or anything of the like, you'll know just how easy it is to record your favourite shows, but there was always a catch, the recording facility was only available through subscription, well, not anymore. Freesat and Freeview recorders are subscription free products, meaning you can watch all of the channels available and record them too without any additional cost.

But, these recorders don't just give you the ability to record individual programmes, you can also schedule a series link to record every episode within a series, so you don't have to worry about setting a recording every time a programme is aired. These are internet based products as well, which enables catch-up and on-demand services, meaning that if you have forgotten to record something on BBC 1 for example, you can just use BBC iPlayer to stream it given that you have an adequate internet connection.

All of that functionality and more exists within the smart platform, and it's an ever-growing progression towards a more cohesive, integrated network within the conventional smart home. Smart is the future, and it's sooner than you might expect.

The year tips, the sun slips towards the sky's edge, and dark bites at the day.

Shopping after dark: hands clutching carrier-bags stuffed with surprises.

The pillar-box's smiling mouth swallows our cards, cheered by the greetings.

Christmas cards snow through the letter-box. Open them and brightness thaws out.

Lying awake I hear clattering hooves: reindeer landing on the roof.

Chocolate cake with Cointreau & chocolate-orange ganache

When it comes to desserts, I must admit, I'm not a fan of Christmas cake, or Christmas pudding, or mince pies for that matter. I love the idea of them and try every year to get on-board but they just don't do it for me. My kids are the same. A nice big festive chocolate cake on the other hand, I could inhale in one sitting. The pull of chocolate is too powerful! I went with a really rich chocolate cake and added orange zest and dash of Cointreau to the frosting. For the decoration, I used vegan icing painted with edible gold paint and sprayed with edible gold glitter.

Ingredients

Frosting

2 x 400ml cans coconut milk
525g dairy-free chocolate chips
105g unrefined coconut oil
250g icing sugar
Zest of 2 large oranges
2 caps of Cointreau (optional)

Cake

350g whole wheat flour
270g cacao or coco powder
200g sugar
1 tbsp bicarbonate of soda
1 1/2 tsp baking powder
1 pinch of salt

720ml of non-dairy milk (I used oat)
210g unrefined coconut oil
375g of applesauce, neutral yogurt or silken tofu
470g maple syrup
1 tbsp apple cider vinegar
1 tbsp vanilla extract

Method

To make the frosting, microwave the coconut milk and chocolate chips for 3 mins, stirring regularly. Once melted, add the (melted) coconut oil, icing sugar, orange zest and Cointreau (if using) and blend until smooth. Refrigerate, preferably overnight, or until firm.

For the cake, mix the wet ingredients together. In a separate bowl, mix the dry ingredients. Once combined, add the dry ingredients to the wet bowl and stir until just combined. Divide the mixture between 3 greased, lined cake tins and cook at 180°C for 35-45 minutes (remove once a cake skewer comes out clean). Allow to cool on a rack, then use the frosting to build the layers. Finish by adding frosting to the outside and decorate.

Until next year,

MAKING IT'S JUST ME by Beth Cunningham

Santa Claus is coming to town. Stand by for the Single Person's Guide to Christmas. It works for me, with sleigh bells on.

Resist pressure. Be vague about your plans. Imply that the Beckhams are badgering you to be with them, while George and Amal want you at Lake Como as soon as you can check the flights from Leeds-Bradford.

Don't make yourself feel guilty - other people will try to do that for you. If you forget a Christmas card, it's not the end of the world. As you get older, the list shrinks as friends die off. This is sad, but saves on stamps.

If you receive a smug newsletter from a perfect family, shred it. As it is the season of goodwill, dwell only briefly on the idea of shredding the senders

People you dislike will insist: 'We must get together before Christmas.' Smile sweetly and say: 'It's a short holiday, not Armageddon. See you after New Year.' (Like hell.)

Avoid afternoon parties involving sausage rolls and lumps of cheese and pineapple on cocktail sticks.

But definitely blub - and donate - copiously when the Sally Army band plays in the shopping centre, sing carols at a Nativity and go to the panto. (Oh yes you will!)

Once through the shark-infested waters of the lead-up, you are home and dry. On the day itself, I'm off up to church happy in the knowledge that if my reindeer jumper looks awful, somebody will be wearing a worse one. One glass of Shiraz in the pub, and I'm on my way home before I start smiling inappropriately at strangers.

Twenty minutes later I'm tucking into my customary banquet of pasta - probably in the shape of Il Postino Pat - carrots, sprouts and kippers. Laugh if you want to, but in Poland carp is traditional. So there.

If I'm in my pyjamas - and horizontal - for the Queen's Speech, I always arise respectfully, if unsteadily, for the National Anthem.

And that's my kind of Christmas.

Whatever yours is, have a good 'un. Even if you're feeling rough, remember that's why Christmas became necessary. Even the smug newsletter people are probably secretly struggling, if only with something like haemorrhoids.

Be your own sort of star - not just for Christmas, but for life - and I'll be watching out for you lighting up the Worth Valley.

Beth Cunningham was brought up in Rawdon. She left Yorkshire to work for newspapers and magazines on Merseyside and in Wales, the Middle East and London, where she also wrote and performed stand-up comedy.

She now lives in Haworth, is a life member of the Bronte Society and writes short stories.

A message from a reader with thanks & praise

After suffering the most calamitous computer crash and at a complete loss as to what I should do to try and restore status quo, I turned to my copy of Aire Valley Mag – simply having moved to this area from Scotland in recent years, I didn't have any established contact with a suitable expert.

How grateful I am that you deliver this magazine to my home every month.

A half page advert on page 27 displaying Computer Universe attracted me to that very business, where I was advised my computer had been hacked and all the data potentially lost. I was devastated!

Precisely one week later, I received a call to advise they had succeeded in completely restoring everything and my computer was, in their own words - 'good as new'.

To be honest, I didn't at first believe their confident assurance, I imagined having to use my own back-up facilities to restore crucial bits of information. I needn't have worried, I came home, plugged it in and in in precise accordance with the received advice everything worked perfectly.

The account I settled was little over half the originally quoted price! I've even been invited back to their Silsden premises for a bit of tuition to try and prevent a further occurrence.

That kind of honesty and quality of service isn't easy to find, if you can find a corner in your publication to replicate the foregoing, I would hope it might help to bring more business to this splendid local enterprise, I shall recommend it to anybody and everybody. Kevin and Tristan – the two chaps I dealt with – I cannot praise them highly enough.

Best wishes. Jeremy Law

Yorkshire Loft Ladders, Quality You Can Trust

These days most homeowners suffer from a lack of storage space. So many precious items that need to be kept - but where to store it all? That's where Yorkshire Loft Ladders come in. The company, based locally, offers homeowners the opportunity to maximise their storage space with a loft ladder, 50 sq ft of boarding and a light all fully fitted in less than a day from just £277 + VAT. But it's not just the affordability of the package the company offers that makes Yorkshire Loft Ladders stand out as manager Mark Hodson explains: 'Our watchwords are Quality, Integrity and Value. Quality in the materials that we use for all our installations and the fact that all our loft packages are fitted by time served tradesman so our customers are assured of the best job. Integrity in that we will turn up at the time we say and make sure the house is spotless when we leave, and Value in that we offer our services at a price people can afford. Our business relies on referrals and we get a huge amount of our calls from people who have been referred to us by our existing customers - that simply wouldn't happen if we didn't adhere to our overriding principles.

At the end of the day the old adage that happy customers lead to more happy customers is true and we work hard to make that happen for every installation we carry out!

So, if you want to make use of your loft space, however big or small, call Warren on 0800 612 8359 and he'll be happy to pop round and give you a no obligation quote so you too can make use of your loft.

Here's a great way to make more storage space...

Install a loft ladder and make more use of your loft!

We need your help to sprinkle festive fairy dust over child victims of crime across the North of the UK this Christmas. Embrace CVOC (Child Victims of Crime) charity is running 'Dear Santa 2018' – a seasonal fund-raising campaign to bring joy and happiness to children and young people who have suffered trauma as a result of crime. Local individuals and businesses in Worth & Aire valleys are grouping together to purchase gifts for children. Some are replacing their Secret Santa with Embrace's Dear Santa initiative. Airedale Enterprise Services has been taking on the role of Santa's Elves and recently hosted a gift wrapping session with the AWWEsome Business Club. You can still purchase a gift for a child victim of crime directly from Amazon Smile online. Simply select the wish-list for your area. Here you'll find a list of Dear Santa gifts together with details of the recipients. Search online: Dear Santa Embrace CVOC
